MURDER HUNT

Shopkeeper's Body Buried Under Bushes.

BLOODSTAINED VAN FOUND ABANDONED

BY A Staff Reporter

The body of a man, believed to be Frederick Walter Jeffs (37), of Stanley Road, Quinton, was unearthed by police last night beneath bushes near the "Lion's Gate" at Handsworth, Birmingham.

A van which Jeffs used to heat was abandoned in an alley off Brantley Road, Weeton, in Wythall, near Handsworth. Police report.

The body of a man, believed to be Frederick Walter Jeffs (37), of Stanley Road, Quinton, was unearthed by police last night beneath bushes near the "Lion's Gate" at Handsworth, Birmingham.

A van which Jeffs used to heat was abandoned in an alley off Brantley Road, Weeton, in Wythall, near Handsworth. Police report.

The body of a man, believed to be Frederick Walter Jeffs (37), of Stanley Road, Quinton, was unearthed by police last night beneath bushes near the "Lion's Gate" at Handsworth, Birmingham.

A van which Jeffs used to heat was abandoned in an alley off Brantley Road, Weeton, in Wythall, near Handsworth. Police report.

The body of a man, believed to be Frederick Walter Jeffs (37), of Stanley Road, Quinton, was unearthed by police last night beneath bushes near the "Lion's Gate" at Handsworth, Birmingham.

A van which Jeffs used to heat was abandoned in an alley off Brantley Road, Weeton, in Wythall, near Handsworth. Police report.